Australian Robotics Company a Game Changer in Silicon Valley

Ocular Robotics has been recognised as a game changer in the global robotics revolution. The Next Generation Game Changer Award was presented to Ocular Robotics at the 2015 RoboBusiness Conference in Silicon Valley – the focal point of the rapid developments in robotics.

This award once again demonstrates the positive impact of cutting edge Australian technology on the world. In the words of Prime Minister Malcolm Turnbull, the key to Australia's future is to be agile, innovative and creative and Ocular Robotics is proud to be a leading example of this economic transformation for the country.
