Instant Consult Turns One

Instant Consult celebrated its 1st birthday on the 1st June since introducing its app to the public.

Incorporated in 2017, only 18 months later, the company launched its website, app and platform to the public and have seen steady growth every month thereafter. Just in the last month, the company has increased its patient database by over 1,500 new patient sign ups, bringing their total patient base to almost 9,000 patients in just 1 year.

Travis Brown (Co-Founder of Instant Consult) reflects on the past year and talks about why telehealth is the future of Australia's healthcare system:
