OPMANTEK SIGNS
MAJOR EUROPEAN TELCO

Opmantek (ASSOB:OMK) has added to its growing customer base by signing up another major telecommunications company, this time in Europe. The Telco has licensed all the commercial modules offered by Opmantek and has also purchased a 3 year support and development agreement.

Opmantek Managing Director Danny Maher said "Since launching our commercial products just 6 months ago, we now have some of the largest telecommunications clients in North America, Central America, Asia Pacific and Europe. Demand for our products is exceptional, the business is generating excess cash and the outlook extremely positive. Our challenge is now to ramp up our sales force to cope with the demand and enquiries we are receiving from some of the world's largest organisations".

Successful trials and customer growth are expected to continue. Opmantek has been ramping up their international sales and marketing to sell the recently released commercial products to the estimated 45,000 organisations using Opmantek products worldwide.

Opmantek operates in the field of Network Management Software under a disruptive business model that leverages low cost community development to deliver their software to a global client base.
